

FC should have open campus lunch

Staff editorial

Doesn't everybody want to leave school for lunch? High school students want freedom. Students that behave and get good grades should have a reward. Leaving for lunch is a great way to let students have freedom and a break from school. If students had the opportunity to take a break during the day, grades would improve because of better lunches. The option to choose their own lunch would be a major motivator to maintain good grades.

Everyone knows FC gets success cards every nine weeks, with free offers from various restaurants at Highlander Point. To make the open lunches more of a privilege, the success cards should now have open lunch options on the back.

Such coupons would include restaurants at Highlander Point like, Subway, Taco Bell, Dairy Queen, Papa

Johns, FX Pizza, Bearnos, Beef O Brady's, Dominos, JayC Deli, and the upcoming McDonalds.

Although the school board has strict rules about class time and the amount of time in the school day, there are always ways to improve.

We recognize the value of class time, and we understand the importance of having a certain amount of time for each class, and throughout the school day, but making open campus lunches will not jeopardize the class time that is required.

We could do this by making passing periods shorter by two minutes, which will increase lunch by 12 minutes, giving students enough time to get lunch and come back. And students will have plenty of time to get to their classes in the amount of 4 minutes. This reduction would not take away from the amount of learning time.

FC needs open campus lunch to express that we are growing up and accepting responsibility for our actions.
